Think about it

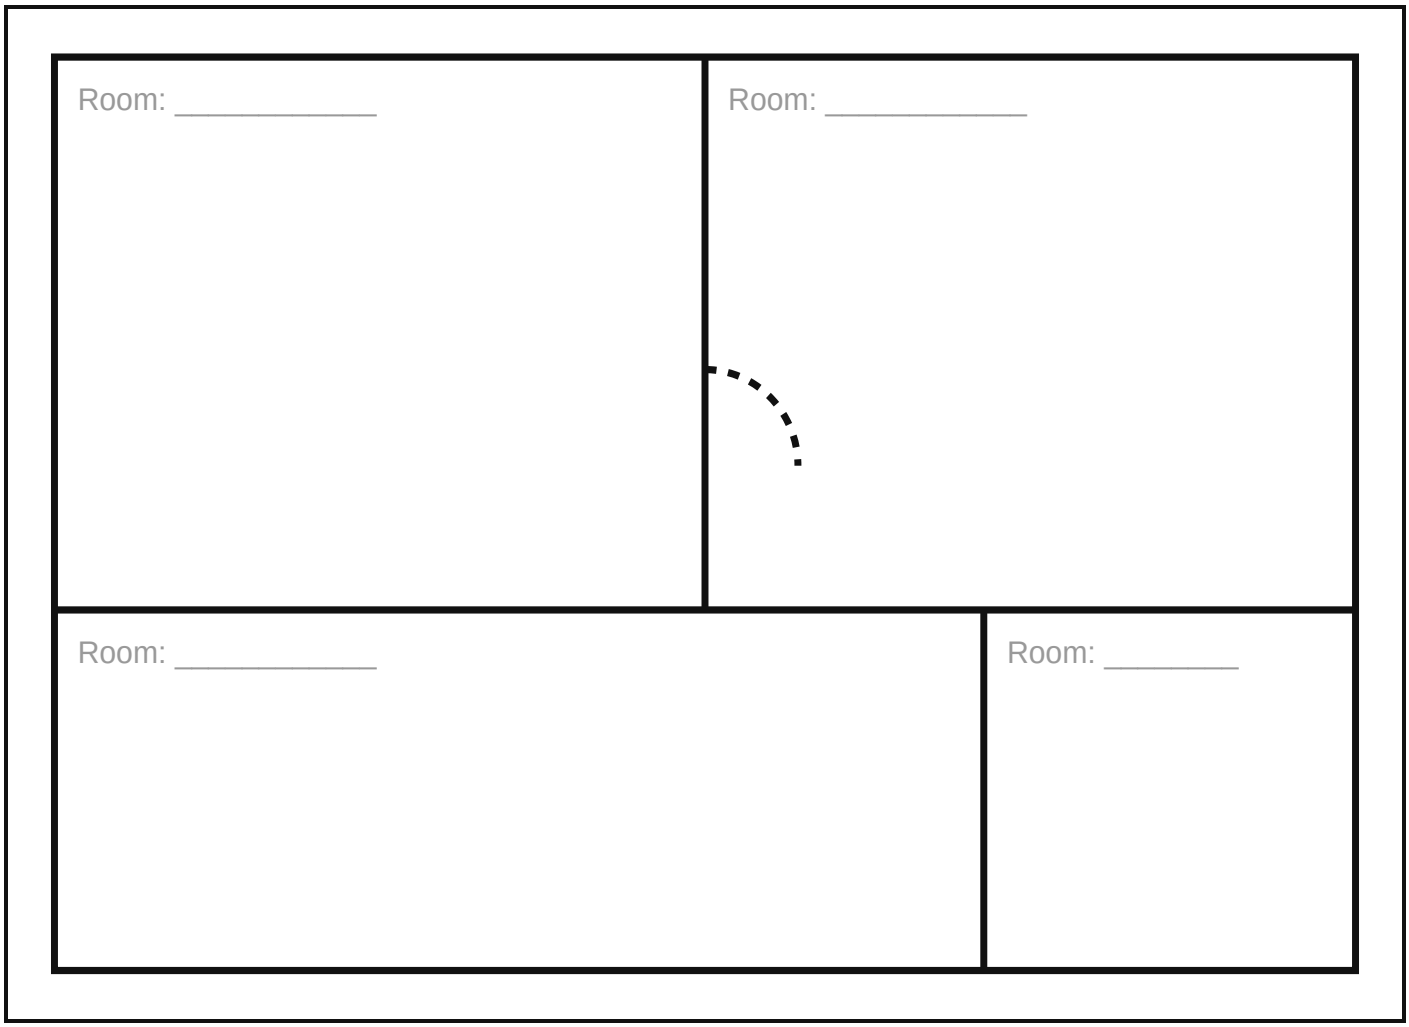

Which role would you try for a day?

Which school subject could help you in that role?

What question would you ask someone who does that job?

Design a Home That Works

Imagine a home for a fictional household. Label a place to rest, a place to gather, and one feature that makes daily life easier. Circle a question you would ask before choosing the home. Talk with someone at home about how different people may need different features.

Questions you might ask before choosing a home

Is it close to school or work? Is there enough space? Is it safe and in good condition? Does it fit the budget? Can everyone get around easily?

Ask a Real Estate Professional

Use these questions with a school speaker or with help from a trusted adult.

Who I talked with (job title only): _____

1. What do you do during a typical day?

2. Which school subjects help you?

3. What education or training did you complete?

4. What is challenging about your work?

5. What would you tell someone who wants to learn more?
